Teaching Professor Caps

MUFA and the Administration agree that the maximum number of teaching-stream appointments for each Faculty should be established at the decanal level. Changes to each Faculty's current limit will be negotiated on the basis of a Faculty plan which reports on the current number of teaching-stream appointments, the role of people holding teaching-stream appointments, how new positions would fit into the plans of the Faculty, and whether the intention is to convert existing CLA positions to teaching-stream positions or to advertise broadly. The Joint Committee will annually designate a meeting during which they will review all requests to modify the cap on teaching-stream appointments and seek to provide written responses as quickly as feasible after the meeting.
