CAUT AWARDS

Distinguished Academic Award

The CAUT Distinguished Academic Award recognizes academics who excel in each of the domains of academic life: teaching, research, service to the institution and to the community. The recipients will be individuals whose teaching, research and service have contributed noticeably to the lives of their students, to their institution, to their field of study, and to the community.

The Award will be given annually. Nominations for the Award may be submitted by individuals, member associations or others to the following address:

The nominator should also include documentation that would help the jury in its decision making. It is the responsibility of the nominators to provide all necessary information as the jury will review only the material it receives.

Nominations will be adjudicated by a jury approved by CAUT Council. The jury's recommendation will be made to the Fall Council for approval.

The award will be presented at the Spring CAUT Council. The recipient will be invited to give an address to Council. The address will be subsequently published by CAUT. The recipient will receive a $1,000 honorarium with the award.

The criteria for the award must of necessity remain rather broad. It may be given to a faculty member, a university administrator, a student, a member of government at the provincial or national level, etc. The number and frequency of awards will be as the Academic Freedom and Tenure Committee and CAUT Council deem appropriate.

Recommendations must be accompanied by a statement of why the individual qualifies for the award and whatever other appropriate documentation is necessary to illustrate and support the person's contribution. The Committee may gather additional information as it feels necessary to assist in its decision making.

Member associations and other groups and individuals are encouraged to contribute recommendations for the award.

Recommendations should be addressed to:

OCUFA AWARDS

Teaching and Academic Librarianship Awards

Each year OCUFA recognizes outstanding teachers and academic librarians in Ontario universities through its Teaching and Academic Librarianship Awards. Since 1973 OCUFA has presented 383 awards. The recipients are selected by the OCUFA Teaching and Academic Librarianship Awards Committee. Approximately 7 awards are presented every year.

Categories:

- Teaching, in the context of the OCUFA awards, embraces virtually all levels of instruction – graduate and undergraduate teaching, continuing education and faculty development. Similarly, proficiency in teaching may extend well beyond the classroom, the laboratory or the faculty member’s office. Activities such as course design, curriculum development, organization of teaching programs and other significant forms of leadership are often important contributions to the instructional process. Those who excel in any of these are eligible for the OCUFA Teaching Awards.
- Academic librarianship, in the context of the OCUFA Awards, embraces all aspects of librarianship that contribute to the scholarly achievement of all members of the university community. Activities such as development and delivery of services, provision of educational materials, collection development and management and other contributions to academic librarianship are important to the intellectual functioning of the university. Those who excel in any of these are eligible for an OCUFA Academic Librarianship Award.

Nominations:

- Nominations are invited from individuals, informal groups of faculty or students, or both, and such organizations as local faculty associations, faculty or college councils, university committees concerned with teaching and learning, librarians, local student councils, departments, alumni, etc.
- Guidelines to assist in organizing a nomination should be consulted by prospective nominators and are available on request from your Faculty Association Office, the Provincial Office of OCUFA, or the OCUFA website at http://ocufa.on.ca/assets/OCUFA-Librarianship-Award-Guidelines-dec-2014_final.pdf.
